I esterday he was relieved of the charge and James Chipman, the company's treasure, we selected to succeed him. Mr. Evans still remains at a member of the board of directors.

Speaking of his acceptance of the management, Mr. Chipman modestly declared that he did not pretend to be much of a miner and said the past two days was all he had ever spent underground at the Uncle Sam. "However," said he. "I shall do the best I can for the interests of the company until such time as someone better qualified for the too changes at the mine, as I am convinced that we have good men in charge of the work there box, but I have decided that the output can be increased and that development work is well enough in advance to warrant it and from now on a greater tonnage will be sent to market. Uncle Matt Gisborn is Steadily Developing With Small Force.

John F. Connog, the hustling business man and operator of Stockton, came in again yesterday. He says that it has been many a long year since as much life has been noticeable in the camps of Stockton, Ophir and Dry Campyon. He says a postoffice is badly needed at Dry Canyon right now and an effort is soon to be made to have one established there.

The strike reported in Uncle Matt Gisborn's Mono severalweeks ago is being steadly opened up with a small force of men and some sensationally high-grade ore is being taken out. Enough work has been don since the strike was made to satisfy te owner of the property that it was not the famous old Mono chute that was tapped, but something entirely new. At first the ore was not of a very high grade, but an improvement is noticeable all the time and Mr. Connor is convinced that with the rich streaks running through it that carry as high as $80 gold and 700 or $00 ounces, silver per ton, Mr. Gisborn stands to make a stake out of it yet.

Numbers of other old properties are taking on new life and before the year ends not a few of them will have entered the shipping lists again.

EXCHANGE FOR BOISE.

A. L. Morris in the Idaho Capital

Another exhibition of weakness was given on the mining stock exchange yesterday, when the bottom prices of the day previous were, in most instances, made to look like boom standards by comparison. In the afternoon a slight raily occurred in spots and in some quarters the claim was made that a rift in the clouds was visible and that the storm had about spent itself. The two calls were watched with deep concern, and in many instances it was plain to see that hopes had been rudely shattered. In the pit excitement was intense and occasionally the caller was compelled to bring proceedings to a standstill to settle differences that, arose between buyers and sellers.

the purview of the professional traders on the exchange who went systematically through the whole list with a testing process of what is called "offering down." If no purchaser was forthcoming for a stock at the last quoted price it was offered at successively lower prices until the making of a purchase fixed the new price level.

The results of this process demonstrated a barrenness of the public appetite for these securities, which is a revelation to many persons who have been impressed with the quoted prices ruling in the market. These prices in many cases were made during the period of active speculation, when purchasers could be attracted by the mere device of a sudden advance in market quotations. Actual transactions in a number of the securities have been few and far between for many months past.
